TO HARBOR POLLUTION

State Board of Health to Take Up the Matter Immediately.

The state board of health will start immediately to aid the shellifish commission, the oyster growers of Connecticut, and the federal bureau of fisheries in freeing the waters of the state from sewage poliution. Methods of procedure are yet to be determined. As a result of a meeting this week, it seems fairly certain that at present everyone will be content with purifying the oysters between time they are lifted from the open waters and the time they are put on the market. Later some general plan for ending the use of the waters as an open sewer will be tackled once and for all.

At special conference between many bodies interested in the shellfish in-dustry, details were given of the work now being done to purity oysters. Concerning that meeting the shellfish commission Wednesday gave out the "The feeling is unanimous that the
